LEAH FLINT WINS CONTEST

Representative of High School in Oratorical Finishes Point Ahead
of Greenfield.

HELD ATTENTION OF CROWD

Big Bunch of Boosters From Here
Made Things Lively at Shelby-ville After Contest.

Miss Leah Flint, representing the Rushville high school in the first oratorical contest of the Central Indiana High School League, won the contest last night in Shelbyville. The subject with which she won was "Toussaint L'Ouverture." The Greenfield orator, Harold Hufford, won second place. His theme was "Poverty and Crime" and he made a good appearance on the stage.

The Shelbyville representative, Carl Gorton, was given third place by the judges. He gave the oration
"True Americanism." Fourth place was awarded to Chalmer Patten, of the Westfield high school, who had the oration "The Loneliness of Genius," and Greenwood ranked last.
Miss Ruby Billingsley was their orator and she had the oration on "Savonarola."

Everyone was well satisfied with the judges decision and Miss Flint well deserved the first honors. She spoke in an easy manner and held the audience's attention throughout her speech. One or two of the others either repeated or did not articulate distinctly. Miss Flint was not in the least excited and spoke distinctly.

The Rushville bunch, after the contest, had a parade through the streets and gave their yells. When they arrived home a similar parade took place from the depot, up Second street to Main and north in Main to Fifth, where they disbanded.
A special train carried the Rushville rosters and one hundred and twenty-five tickets were sold. Rushville sent the biggest delegation and their yells filled the opera house before the speeches.

A small crowd attended the contest, high school students being about the only ones present. The balcony was vacant and only the lower floor was used.

The high school from the proceeds of the event will buy a gold shield,
which will be placed in the assembly room. This makes the second shield for the local school, the other one being won by Miss Frances Frazee
two years ago in Frankfort. Miss Flint received a gold medal.

The Shelbyville high school orchestra furnished the music and a girls sextette scored a great hit. A quartet composed of boys answered
several encores.

The judges of the contest were W.
H. Stout, W. K. Stewart and E. H. K.
McComb, all of Indianapolis. The number of points which were awarded by the judges to Miss Flint were a total of five. She received one first place and two seconds. Harold Hufford of Greenfield received six points, having one first, a second and a third place. Carl Gorton of Shelbyville received a first, two third places, making his total seven points.

LEAVE VIENNA TOMORROW

(By United Press.)

Vienna, May 9.—The delegation of American hotel men who are touring Europe will leave here tomorrow for Salzburg where they will spend only a few hours before going to Innsbruck for a two days stay. A banquet by Americans residing here
was on the program for this evening.

WEBER'S BAND IS TO PLAY

Will Appear at Chautauqua—Coming
With Cincinnati Boosters.

Special interest will be attached to the coming of John Weber's band here next Thursday morning with the Cincinnati boosters because this same band will be on the program at the annual Rush county chautauqua which will be held at the city park coliseum this year in August. The band will furnish the programs Wednesday afternoon and evening during chautauqua week. The chautauqua had a band for the first time last year when Innes' organization appeared here. Band music was so popular that the committee made efforts to get another one this year.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. WILLIAM LEE

Apoplexy Stroke Proves Fatal to Well Known Woman of Arlington—Ill Few Hours.

FUNERAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Catherine Lee, 77 years old, wife of William H. Lee, died last night at her home in Arlington after a brief illness. Mrs. Lee suffered a stroke of apoplexy Friday morning,
and because of her advanced age death was expected. She was a well known and highly respected woman and had lived in Arlington most of her life. She is survived by her husband and six children, Mrs.
Adenia Ellison, Mrs. Fanny Benjamin,
Mrs. Florence Hinderliter, Arthur
Lee, Rush Lee and Royal Lee.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in the Arlington christian church. Burial will take place in the Arlington East Hill cemetery.

WILL GATHER UP TRASH NEXT WEEK

Mayor Bebout Says City Wagons
Will Still be on Job if Residents
Want to Clean up Premises.

WEATHER SPOILED THIS WEEK

Because of the inclement weather this week, Mayor C. L. Bebout announced today that city wagons would pass about the city the first of next week to gather up any trash or debris that may have been left in the alleys during clean-up week. This was officially proclaimed clean-up week, but the weather man apparently was decidedly averse to Rushville celebrating and he has hindered all efforts to clean up until today when the sun shone brightly most of the day and gave residents their first opportunity to gather up the winter's accumulation of filth.

It was announced that wagons
would be out Thursday and Saturday Thursday a wagon traversed many of the alleys, but found very little trash. Today a wagon was out, but could not find more than a load of debris. It is hoped by the mayor that cleaning up next week will be more profitable.

Because copper is an important medium of currency in China its mining is rigorously controlled by the government.

RAINS ADD TO DELAY IN WORK

Farmers Not Able to do Anything All Week After Spring Tasks Are Already Far Behind.

CLEAR WEATHER HOPED FOR

Crop Report Just Issued Shows
Wheat in Better Condition Than
For Last Ten Years.

Farmers welcomed the return of the sun to this hemisphere today after a long sojourn in other parts. The sun seems like a foreigner, but it is quite possible it will get on very friendly terms with the natives hereabouts because Rush county's share of the rain for a month to come, it would seem, has fallen.

Added to the lateness of the spring farm work, came another delay this week. There has not been a day when farmers could get into the fields and do their planting. The ground was so wet today that it is doubtful whether it would be possible to work.

The rains, it is said, have not been harmful to the crops, but they have caused the farmers a lot of inconvenience. Indications are this spring that the yields will all be up to the average.

According to the crop reports estimate for May 1, issued May 7, by the Bureau of Statistics, in co-operation with the Weather Bureau, United States Department of Agriculture, the condition of wheat in Indiana is given at 98 per cent., as against the 81 per cent. 10-year average, and the estimated bushels to be harvested is given at 45,500,- 000 as against 28,775,000 for the year 1913.

The condition of rye is 95 per cent., as against 88 per cent., the 10-year average. The acreage in wheat in the state is given as 2,480,000 acres, and but 1.3 per cent. of the area originally planted to wheat in the state has been abandoned.

In the entire United States 35,- 400,000 acres in wheat remains to be harvested and the condition is 95.5 per cent., compared with the 10-year average condition of 85.5. The yield for the entire United States, expressed in bushels is given as 630,- 000,000.

On May 1, the estimate continues, thirty-seven per cent. of the spring planting in Indiana has been done
and fifty-six per cent. in the whole United States. In Indiana this is better by two per cent. than the eight year average.

Fifty-five per cent. of the spring plowing had been completed May 1
in this state, the estimate continues.
This is one per cent. below the ten-year average in Indiana. In the United States it is estimated 70.9 per cent. has been completed, which indicates that the Indiana climate has hindered the spring work this year more than ever. The ten-year average for the United States is 66.6 per cent.

Meadows for hay are in good condition. The estimate says ninety-one per cent. are all right and the ten-year average is only eighty-seven per cent. In the United States the per cent this year is 99.9 and ten-year average is 88.1.

Ninety per cent. of the pastures
in Indiana, it is estimated, are in good condition, as against a ten-year average of 85 per cent. In the United States the pasturage was 88.3
good and the ten-year average was 85.6.

Prof. Martens, director of the choir of the St. Paul's M. E. church, will sing a solo, "Mother O' Mine" at the morning church hour.

OBSERVANCE TO BE UNIVERSAL

Throughout City and County Tomorrow Churches and Sunday School Will Celebrate Day.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS MADE

Florists Report a Big Demand For Carnations, Which Have Been Established Emblems For Day.

Mothers Day will be universally celebrated here tomorrow. The observance of the day promises to be more general than it has ever been.
Special programs and sermons have been announced for all of the churches and many of the Sunday schools.

Florists report a heavy demand for carnations. The rule is that bright carnations should be sent or worn for the living and white for the dead. The celebration of the special day has grown in interest each year
since it was first founded by Anna
Jarvis of Philadelphia.

Every mother who attends the Main Street Bible school Sunday morning will receive a white carnation.
Arrangements have been made to take all infirm persons to and from the church if they have no means of going.

A special program has been arranged for the Sunday school hour.
After a prelude by the orchestra and a song by the school and a prayer by Mrs. John Borem, the school will sing "Mother," a song sung to the tune of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."
After the usual Sunday school routine, including the class hour and selections by the orchestra, Miss Edith Buell will sing a solo, "O' Lord Be Merciful." Following the secretary's report, Jess Pugh will give a reading appropriate to the occasion and Miss Mary Louise Poe will sing, "My Name in Mother's Prayer." The program will be closed with a song by the school.

As well as in the city, special programs have been arranged for the Sunday schools and churches throughout the country. The spirit of Mothers Day has spread far and wide until it has come to be recognized almost as generally as some of the national holidays.

The following special music will be rendered at the Mother's Day service at the St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning.
Anthem—"Blessed Are They That Always Keep Judgment"—S. S.
Wesley.

Solo, "Mother of Mine" (Kipling)—
Christian Martens.
Anthem, "Jesus Merciful and Mild"
—Frank H. Brackett.

The chorus choir will also render special music at the evening service.

ADJOURNS COURT.

Judge Megee adjourned court this afternoon for one week. The docket was called this morning but there was very little court business. The petition of Charles Alger for a drain was dismissed on motion of Mr. Alger.

SILLIMAN REPORTED SAFE

French Embassy Assures Government U. S. Consul is all Right.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 9.—Secretary
Bryan received word from the French embassy here today that the French legation in Mexico had forwarded assurances of the safety of U. S. Consul Silliman, station at Saltillo, who had been reported executed by Mexican Federals.

C. W. POST, CEREAL KING, A SUICIDE

Kills Himself Today at Winter Home
Santa Barbara, Cal., by Blowing
Head Off.

IN POOR HEALTH A LONG TIME

(By United Press.)

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 9.—C.
W. Post millionaire cereal food manufacturer of Battle Creek, Mich.,
committed suicide today by shooting.
Post was spending the winter here at his winter home. His health had been failing for some time, but his friends had understood it had been improving since he returned here
from Rochester, Minn., where he underwent an operation supposedly for appendicitis in the Mayo Brothers hospital.

The suicide occurred at Post's winter home. He used a thirty-three hunting rifle. Placing the muzzle in his mouth, he pulled the trigger and blew off the top of his head.
Post killed himself early this morning. Since his return from Rochester he had been under the care of a nurse. Early today he told her he wanted to be alone a moment. Hearing the shot, she rushed back and found her employer in death agony.

COMPLICATIONS AVERTED TODAY

Munitions of War For Dictator Will be Returned to Germany, Secretary Bryan Hears.

CONSUL AT HAVANA REPORTS

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 9.—Danger of complications in the Mexican situation by landing munitions of war by Dictator Huerta at Puerto, Mexico
from two German ships was averted
this afternoon. Secretary of State Bryan announced he had received a message from Consul Rogers at Havana stating that the arms aboard
the Krantrinzessin vessel, Cecile, variously reported off or near Puerto,
Mexico, would be returned to Germany and that agents of the vessel have recommended the same treatment for munitions aboard the Bavaria, another German vessel due at the same port the eighteenth.

—Mrs. Nancy Whitacker of Falmouth, Ky., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Holmes, here, returned to her home yesterday. She is a very unusual woman. Mrs. Whitacker is eighty-six years of age and is in good health. She has forty-three grandchildren and seventy-six great grandchildren.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reibers of Indianapolis are visiting friends and relatives.

AT LEAST 100 DIE IN EARTHQUAKE

Scores of Villages in Towns on Island of Sicily Are Shaken and Many Persons Barely Escape

OLD MT. ETNA IS RUMBLING

Still Active Today after Showing Signs of an Eruption About
Two Weeks Ago.

(By United Press.)

Acriale, Sicily, May 9.—At least 100 persons were killed and as many injured as a result of a terrific earthquake that shook a score of towns and villages in this region last night.

Reports of dead and injured poured in on the authorities here today.
Two towns with a population of 1,000 or more and several small villages were destroyed.

This town is well built and every road leading here was choked today with refugees.

Mt. Etna, which showed signs of an eruption about two weeks ago,
was still active today.

In every village at the base of the famous old mountain the streets were jammed with men, women and children rushing for the open country.
Women ran screaming from the tottering walls. All those who escaped did so by reaching the fields. The first quake was felt at six o'clock
Friday evening.

Five hundred soldiers arrived here today. This is the center of the quake zone. Red Cross tents were erected and a hospital center established. Destruction of railroads delayed arrival of refugees.

With Mt. Etna rumbling and emitting great clouds of smoke this afternoon, terror-stricken refugees of villages and towns feared than an eruption of the volcano would follow the earthquake.

Thousands of soldiers and police were engaged in removing the dead and injured from fourteen thickly populated villages at the base of Mt.
Etna which were either partially or wholly destroyed.

Two cases from Henry county
have been received in the local circuit court and placed on file. They are the suits of Harvey Davis, administrator of the estate of Joanna Loer, deceased, against Elizabeth Koons, et al., being a petition to sell real estate, and the case of Cora D.
Bess against Eric C. Morgan, administrator of the estate of John Beavers, deceased, a claim demanding $2,000.

What Co-operation Means

It means the pulling together of two or more interests for a common purpose.

When manufacturer and dealer pull together, the purpose is increased sales.

The great meeting-ground
for this work is the advertising columns of local newspapers
like The Daily Republican.

The advertising appeals directly to the buying public in the dealer's city and the name and the product of the manufacturer derive a great benefit through association with the dealer's local prestige.

Co-operative advertising in the newspapers is growing more and more in favor because it pays.

WOMEN CAN AID IN GOOD ROADS

Mrs. Fred Hoke Suggests Plan of Co-operation and Shows How They Are Interested

ENDORSES GOVERNMENT PLAN

Town People are Dependent on the Country People and Education Campaign is Urged.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 9.—Women should be keenly interested in good roads, according to Mrs. Fred Hoke, president of the Mothers Congress and Parent-Teachers Association of Indiana, who represented that organization today before the National Old Trails Road Association convention in session here. Not only should women be interested, but they should do everything possible to further the cause of good roads, because they are necessary to the well-being of any community, she said. This was Indiana day.

Mrs. Hoke outlined many ways in which Parent-Teachers clubs in Indiana may aid in the agitation for good roads. She quoted extensively from a report just received from L. W. Page, director of the federal department office of public roads. Page suggests plans of co-operation with various women's associations.

"Women have been interested in good roads for some time," said Mrs. Hoke. "The National Congress of Mothers at the Boston meeting last May urged that states make a study of the conditions of their unorganized rural districts with reference to the condition of roads and their relations to the rural condition. This congress decided that the town people should educate the town children regarding their dependence on rural conditions, and create in them a sense of their responsibility to help improve country roads," she said.

The speaker endorsed the plan for the federal department, which was that a Woman's organization should take up definite phases of road work under seven projects as follows:

Project of the model road. Local Economics, Publication and Photographs, Education of School Children, Ways and Means of Financing The Cost of Accounting, and Publicity.

The model road idea as explained by Mrs. Hoke is to elect some road leading into a central market and let it be an object lesson. Statistics, she said, showed that twenty percent of the roads in a given locality carry 85 percent of the entire traffic.

Local economies would include the gathering of all available statistics on local costs of transportation—moving of crops and domestic goods. Figures on taxes and property values should also be obtained giving values of real estate before and after improvement of roads. She suggested the collection of many little stories illustrating increased values resulting from good roads.

Valuable publication could be obtained from the state highway department, according to the Page report. Also, the Washington department would be willing to print and sub-let good photos for use in promoting good roads.

Children could be educated in elementary economies of road building. Also, good-road days should be held in schools once a year. Existing means of raising money should be studied and compared with similar means in other localities. Under the head of accounting to Page, to see whether accounts were properly kept. Local papers should be given authentic reports, Page said, and club members could well afford to see to this.

If You Were Indicted for Murder===

would you care to be tried before a jury whose minds were on other affairs and who would not listen to your testimony? The chances are you would want men who would give their whole attention to your case. You may never be tried for murder but the same proposition applies to every business transaction you make. When you want to buy an article go to the man that specializes that article. Now for instance if you need a vehicle of any kind—that is where I ring in. That is why I can give you better vehicle values, better styles and better service. My whole time and attention is centered on one thing. Every day in the year, Mr. Vehicle Buyer, I am working to obtain better prices and better style for you to make your selections from. Place your business with a man who creates new styles and is working at the business every day to give you satisfaction. I want your vehicle business and don't you think it is a better proposition to place it with me than with some one that is selling buggies as a side issue?

Amusements

The Princess will show a Vitagraph drama "The Old Oak's Secret" for the first picture tonight. Margaret Gibson and George Cooper are featured. The second is a Lubin comedy entitled "The Rise of Officer Casey." The last is a drama "King Baby's Birthday." Monday night the two reel feature "The Tragedy of Ambition" will be shown.

"By Radium's Rays" is the title of the two reel Gold Seal 101 Bison drama, the first picture at the Gem tonight. Herbert Rawlinson and Edna Haison are featured and it is said to be a thrilling drama as well as an educational feature. The other is a comedy "Universal Ike Gets a Goat." Monday night the two reel Imp feature "The Opal Ring" will be shown.

The Portola will show again tonight the feature picture "Hearts Adrift." Mary Pickford is seen in this picture. It was shown here last night and is said to be one of the prettiest pictures ever shown. Monday night Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters of Newcastle will appear at the Portola showing the motion pictures involving Catherine Winters, their daughter who was kidnapped from Newcastle over a year ago. Dr. Winters is using this method of informing the public with the facts in the case and as a means of raising money with which to further the search for the lost child.

Washington, May 9.—Suffragists from every state marched down Pennsylvania avenue today in the big parade and demonstration under garlands of flowers which stretched from the White House to the Capitol. From every standpoint it was one of the most beautiful and impressive scenes attending any suffrage celebration in this city. The artist's section formed one of the striking features. Some weeks ago every woman artist in the country was invited to march and from today's indications everyone who could come here was in line. At tonight's meeting Mrs. Thomas M. Hopburn, president of the Woman's Suffrage Association of Connecticut, will be one of the speakers.

Direct Primaries.

Every time another direct primary is held the foes of the system are given another argument against it. Some states which have the primary system profess that it is the only way out from boss rule in parties, but it yet remains to be proved in Indiana.

Marion county has just come from another primary. There isn't any doubt that much results could have been obtained with the convention system. The machine won, of course as it always will whether it be primary or convention.

The chief contention of the advocates of the direct primary is that better candidates are obtained. If we are to take the word of the Indianapolis newspapers, the best men did not win, except in a very few cases. Then, if the best men do not win and if machine rule is not ousted from politics, the direct primary falls under the weight of its own alleged advantages.

But what are its disadvantages? It has just one that is so glaring that all others pale into insignificance beside it. That one is cost. The enormous expense to the people of a direct primary is the one argument that should cause the voters to hesitate and think before they vote for the initiation of a direct primary system in their government.

The trend of the times both in state and nation is to increase the burden of taxation. The Democratic national administration passed a near free trade tariff bill, and in order to raise the revenue lost by removing tariff duties, a lot of special taxes have been foisted on the people. The excuse of the administration was that the cost of living would be reduced by the reduction and taking off of tariff duties. But the cost of living has not been so kind as to become less and the special taxes are extra.

Taxes are burdening the people of the state of Indiana. The people should think a great while before they vote to make them any larger than they are. Since Thomas R. Marshall was elected governor, we have seen the taxes rise steadily. And there seems to be no stopping place.

A direct primary will only make the tax greater. Taxpayers are not so objectional if the people get something for their money, but in the case of the primary they get nothing. Taxes for public improvements should be paid willingly, but the increased tax that would result from a direct primary could be used for no further purpose than to pay an army of political hangers on.

President Woodrow Wilson forced a direct primary plank on the Democratic party in Indiana. In its last analysis, Mayor Joe Bell of Indianapolis said that plank was the "funeral of the Democratic party in Indiana." And what does the Indianapolis News, the staunch Wilson newspaper, think of Wilson's pet idea, those theoretical direct primaries?

"Indianapolis has just emerged," comments the News, "from another direct primary—with the usual experience. The voters here can not wonder if those in other states who are so enamored of the system are not in truth living in a dream world. Certainly, none of the blessings supposed to have been won elsewhere have been enjoyed here. We do not get better candidates; on the contrary, we always seem to be confronted with the possibility—at least—of getting worse ones than under the convention system. In some respects the direct primary seems to be admirably adapted to the desire of the bosses. Of course, they always have an organization, while the people never have one."

"In this city the Bell machine had entire control of the local government, and it used it to the limit. Firemen, policemen, street gangs, repair gangs were of themselves almost enough to insure success to the Bell machine. Here was an organization ready to hand which the people could not cope with. We say nothing of the employees of public service corporations, though these are sometimes available. The men who want office, and their numerous friends, naturally fall in line with the machine army. It is of the utmost importance to get on the machine slate. Out of all these elements it is easy to build up an army that is invincible. Of course, it is sometimes possible to beat some of the gang's candidates, as was done here Tuesday. But it is usually by the use of gang methods. Two of the candidates who were not on the slate put out a fake slate, calling it a "substitute" slate. They managed to get it distributed before the opening of the polls, and they won as slate candidates. We do not imagine that this performance will be cited as proof of the value of the direct primary."

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

IT IS STRANGE.

(Muncie Press.)

The Indianapolis Star, in its Wednesday's issue, gave the total vote for republican and democratic candidates before the Marion county primary, in certain precincts, but for some reason or other neglected to print the progressive party totals.

In its Thursday's issue The Star omits mention of both the republican and democratic vote.

We are at a loss to understand this remarkable oversight. Surely the fact that the progressive party mustered only ten per cent of its 1912 vote for Beveridge could have nothing to do with it. Surely the fact that the dead and buried republican party got out sixty per cent of its 1912 vote could have had no influence upon the Star in the matter of creating contrasts. It was merely an oversight, no doubt. That the Star would intentionally suppress the facts for the delusion of its readers is of course unbelievable.

WILL BE GOLDEN JUBILEE MEETING

Plans Being Laid For Indiana Sunday School Convention to be in Indianapolis in June.

TO SUPPRESS OTHER EVENTS

Owing to Central Location, Attendance is Expected to Run Into
The Thousands.

The Indiana Sunday School Convention which will be held in Indianapolis, June 16th, 17th and 18th, will be the Golden Jubilee meeting of this body. For fifty years the Sunday Schools of the State have been organized in an effort to help strengthen the work of all Protestant churches.

The present indications are that this convention will out-reach all previous records in point of numbers and enthusiasm. Owing to the central location the attendance is expected to run up into the thousands. They are over nine hundred county officers to say nothing of the township and individual school workers. One school in the north part of the State is planning to bring the entire staff of teachers and officers, numbering about thirty.

The First Baptist Church, corner of Vermont and Meridian streets, will be convention headquarters. The Second Presbyterian Church, one block east, and the Roberts Park M. E. church, two blocks east, will also be used for simultaneous meetings and conferences. These churches are within easy access to the downtown district and both stations making the matter of getting to and from the trains and places of entertainment an easy one.

A splendid local committee composed of business and professional men of the city is looking after the details of caring for the convention in a thorough and business-like manner. Entertainment will be secured in the homes at a nominal price.

Further particulars may be had by writing the Indiana Sunday School Association, 417 Law Building, Indianapolis, Ind.

HOW THE NEWS IS "COVERED"

Correspondent Gives Some Inside
Information of Methods Used by Reporters in Washington

NEAR 800 NEWSPAPER PEOPLE

Members of Cabinet and President
Have Definite Hours Each Week
to Receive Correspondents

BY BURTON K. STANDISH
(Written for United Press.)

Washington, May 9.—Everyone who has been reading the newspapers during the last fortnight has probably been wondering exactly how the newspapermen at the National Capital "cover" developments. It is worth while in this connection, to note that probably Washington has more newspapermen as residents than any city of the world.

There are nearly 250 staff correspondents who are members of the Press Galleries. These are the newspapermen officially credited and permitted to view the proceedings in Congress from the press galleries. The rules are very strict. Only writers who daily "file stuff" by telegraph are permitted. The 250 membership does not nearly cover all those connected with newspaper work here.

The National Press Club alone numbers 350 active working newspapermen among its members. Then too, there are at least two hundred other men and women who do "odd jobs" of correspondence—secretaries to senators and representatives, government employees, and the like. It is therefore conceded that counting everybody here whose writing for the newspapers and magazines, there are at least 800 correspondents in Washington.

The working newspapermen are officially recognized by the government. Mention has been made of the arrangement at the Capitol where there is a committee of correspondents who govern the galleries. There are press rooms at the White House Executive offices; the Navy; the Postoffice, Treasury, Interstate Commerce, and other Departments.

Most of the cabinet officers have definite hours on which they receive the correspondents. President Wilson sees them at least twice weekly—at 10:30 a. m. Mondays and at 2:30 on Thursdays. Of course, except with special permission the President never is quoted directly. Correspondents from time immemorial have always managed, however, to use what the President tells them by writing that "the President told his callers today that so-and-so" without use of quotations. Cabinet officials are always quoted, except where they make special prohibition. Of course most of the news at the White House comes from those who call there. Official news naturally is announced, but it is from the officials, prominent men, senators, representatives and army and navy officers who visit the President that the White House corps get most of their "copy."

Imitating the Capitol corps, the White House correspondents have also recently formed an association of newspapermen, for mutual protection and interest.

Only authorized staff newspapermen are eligible. The White House deals with the newspapermen through this official.

Secretary to the President Tumulty upset all traditions when he took his job. Heretofore it had always been necessary to send in a card when the secretary was asked for an interview. Now Tumulty's door is always open and a correspondent seeking information can get his ear instantly.

Another man in official life who has upset all expectations or traditions is secretary Bryan. The Nebraskan had had a good deal to do with newspapermen for a number of years.

He has been very full, frank and free in discussing matters with them. That is, he was full and frank and free. He isn't now. He is about the toughest proposition in a news way of anybody here.

Of course he isn't as bad as former Counsellor of the State Department John Bassett Moore. Moore could give a clam a big handicap, and beat it in the silence stakes. Daniels, himself is a newspaperman, talks very freely. Garrison does likewise. McReynolds is only "fair" as a newspaper victim.

Burleson is very mum ordinarily. Lane is universally popular; he's not much on the talking, but he's direct and if he says he can't discuss a thing, the newspapermen know he means it.

Houston, Redfield and Wilson are also rather inclined to softpedal when it comes to talking. The newspapermen at the White House "pump" the entire cabinet and then put together the answers the members give usually with great success in arriving at what actually happened at cabinet meetings.

Join our South Bend Watch Club and buy on easy terms at the lowest cash price.

You have always wanted to own a high grade watch—a watch you could absolutely depend upon for accuracy—a watch that would be the envy of your friends—Here is your opportunity. Plans have just been completed that permit us to sell high grade South Bend watches on easy payments at the cash rock bottom price.

"The South Bend" Watch

on $1.00 a week terms

We propose to sell these watches in clubs. By combining the purchases of several people we can sell a number of watches at no greater cost than the cost to sell one watch. That's why we call it our club plan. A watch will be delivered to each member upon his making the first payment.

The amount each member will pay in each week will be so small that it will never be noticed and at the end of a few weeks the watch is entirely paid for.

The South Bend Watch which we are offering on this club plan is a watch you will always be proud to carry.

It is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction by both ourselves and the makers.

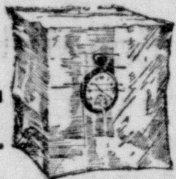

You will surely like its trim shapely build.

Don't let this splendid chance slip by—this offer is made for a limited time only—come in this evening and let us give you more complete information on this money saving plan.

RESOLVES INTO A TOURNAMENT

Track Meet at Shelbyville Had to be Postponed and Series of Basketball Games Are Played.

RUSHVILLE FINISHES SECOND

Defeats Greenwood in the Trials and Then Loses to Shelbyville in the Final Contest.

Although the track meet was postponed yesterday afternoon at Shelbyville, the entertainment committee immediately made arrangements for a series of basketball games. The games were played in the high school building and a large crowd was present. Delegations from Greenfield, Westfield, Greenwood and Rushville attended, and their yells filled the building. The Rushville school sent more than any other, and Greenfield had the next largest.

The basketball games were scheduled as follows: Greenfield vs. Shelbyville; Greenwood vs. Rushville; the winner of these two games were to play for the championship, and Rushville then played the Shelbyville team. In the first game Greenfield was outclassed and met defeat, the score being 17 to 3. Smelser of Rushville acted as referee. Ten minutes halves were played.

The next game Rushville took by the score of 5 to 2. The team went under the name of Greenwood, but consisted of a picked team from the Westfield and Greenwood schools. The time in this game was cut to 6 1/2 minute halves.

The Rushville team lined up with about the same team that represented the school last season: Farthing and Martin, forwards; Webb, center; Frazier and Shannahan, guards. The games were all handicapped by the large crowd which was present, as the floor space was occupied by the rooters.

The championship game then started between Rushville and Shelbyville. The local team made the first score and Shelbyville soon came back and after a short time had everything their own way. The score at the end of the first half was 3 to 3. In the final half Rushville weakened and Shelbyville run their score up to 23 and the locals 7.

The Shelbyville high school was declared the champion and the Rushville team ranked second. Many regret that the track meet was not pulled off, but all had a delightful time indoors. After the games were over, free admission tickets were given out to visitors for the Alhambra theatre. The visitors were the guests of the Shelbyville faculty, which should be complimented upon for their royal reception.

The committee decided to hold the track and field events Friday, May 22, at the fair grounds in Shelbyville. The local team will devote the next two weeks to hard practice.

GROUND TO BE IN GOOD SHAPE

Expected to Dry out in Time for Big Game Tomorrow With Cincinnati All-Pros

ARCADIANS EXPECT TO WIN

With Sanford on Mound Rushville Has Chance to Defeat Former Leaguers—Called at 2:30

The South Main street grounds will be in shape for the game tomorrow with the All-Pros of Cincinnati. The rains of the past few days made the infield very heavy but the management was working hard today and expected to have the grounds ready for tomorrow's battle.

The Rushville team faces one of the hardest games of the season in the All-Pro team. The Cincinnati team is composed of players who have seen service in major and minor league and should give Rushville a stiff game. Jack Pfister, former Chicago Cub will start the game in the box for the All-Pros and will be opposed by Ed Sanford for the Arcadians.

It is expected to be a pitcher's battle and with a good team behind Sanford Rushville hopes to make a good showing. If the team plays the kind of ball it did last Sunday there is no doubt as to the outcome. The Rushville team will line up in the regular order as follows. Mattern, catch; Sanford, pitch; Bridgeman, first; Spellman, second; Johannes, short; O'Dell, third; Pierce, left; Tompkins, center and Finley, right.

The fans will have a chance to see Sanford extend himself as he will have to go some to defeat the All-Pros. Last Sunday he took things easy to beat the Superbas but his work showed that he is a real pitcher and the fans were highly elated over the prospects.

The All-Pros will lineup as follows: Reggy, third; Barton, second; Kunkle first; Hollis, center; Woodruff, left; Breitenstein, right; Williams, short; Ragsdale, catch; Pfister or Golden pitch.

The game will be called at two thirty o'clock and Poston, the Gwynneville umpire will officiate.

OFFICIAL SEASON OPENS

Interscholastic Tennis Tournament Starts at Princeton, N. J.

(By United Press.)

Princeton, N. J. May 9.—The official tennis season of the United States opens here today when the interscholastic championship tournament starts. The official tennis program which begins here today includes 130 championships and tournaments which have received the United States National Lawn Tennis Association's sanction and which will continue until December. This year's program is the most comprehensive that the Association has ever undertaken, according to Robert D. Wren, president. There are few conflicting dates, some of these being probable in the event some of the preliminary matches in the Davis Cup competitions are played in this country.

DOWNES MEETING STARTS.

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—With many of the best horses in the country stabled at Churchill Downs, the twelve day meeting opens here this afternoon.

Resolution of T. P. A. Convention Urges Passage of Bill for Protection Against Fire

AND IS OPPOSED TO TIPPING

Wants Men Elected Who Will Support Them in Fight Before Legislature in 1915.

OFFICERS ELECTED

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., May 9.—The Indiana T. P. A. today elected the following officers for the year; president, George Steele, Evansville; first vice-president, W. J. D. Counts, Indianapolis; second vice-president, I. W. Mienear, Huntington; secretary-treasurer, W. D. Chambers, Terre Haute. The directors elected were L. E. Coleman of Vincennes and Phad Keller of South Bend, W. Ryan of Terre Haute was chairman of the trust committee. The membership was announced as 6,638.

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., May 9.—Action of the resolutions committee received the most attention at today's session of the Traveller's Protective Association of Indiana in session here. Travellers reviewed the act of the recent legislature in passing their bill for stricter fire regulation in hotels, on the last day of the session and the action of the governor in "standing on his rights"—not signing the bill. The travellers were assured that the governor had not understood the bill and believed it was covered in the Fire Marshall bill which he had signed.

One member of the T. P. A. said that the travelers intended this time to see to it that their bill was passed and that the governor signed it.

"There are 20,000 travellers in Indiana, and we can elect a governor and legislature if necessary to pass our bills," he said.

A resolution placing the convention record as opposed to tipping was scheduled for passage, but as one member put it, it didn't make much difference, for such a resolution is passed every year, "and then members go out and tip."

The following resolution was expected to win favor with the convention:

"Whereas the life of the commercial traveller has many hazards and these hazards are the cause of the existence of this organization, and

"Whereas the T. P. A. has a financial hazard in this state, having a membership of 6,500, insuring against accident $25 a week and $10,000 for death, and believing it to be our duty to protect the order against unnecessary loss and sorrow to the families of our brothers, therefore be it

"Resolved: that we indorse the work of the commercial travellers league of Indiana in their efforts to have enacted into law a bill which they have prepared to present to the legislature of 1915 the same being an act entitled 'An Act to Protect Life Against Fire,' and that all members of the T. P. A. posts in Indiana are requested to use their efforts to elect to the legislature of 1915 only such men as are known to favor the bill and are known to be the travelling men's friends. Be it further

"Resolved: that the secretaries of the posts throughout the state furnish their local newspapers with a copy of these resolutions."

DEMI-TAILORED FROCKS SMART FOR AFTERNOON.

One of the quaint effects for kiddies is the bolero; it is seen on long-waisted frocks, such as shown in number 8315, and also in Empire designs. Speaking of the short-waisted designs it is gratifying to note that the effective Oliver Twist suit is not to be monopolized by little Olivers alone; it is being copied for their small sisters too. The blouse is usually white, plaited in quite the same way as the boy's waist and the box-plaited skirt is buttoned on to it in the same way also. Long and short-waisted designs are equally favored this season. The dress shown here has the long waist gathered in slightly to the belt, a bolero top and elbow sleeves; white voile is the material with bolero of striped voile and trimming bands of printed crepe. For a child of eight, this dress requires 2½ yards of 36-inch material.

It is interesting to note the effectiveness of contrasting materials used in the demi-tailored afternoon costume (8336-8337). Dark blue gabardine, black taffetas and blue and white crepe de Chine are used. This combining of silks and worsteds is being indulged in considerably this season with excellent results. An extremely modish blouse and one of the new apron tunics are features of this costume. It may be copied in size 36 with 3¾ yards of material 36 inches wide for the blouse (8336) and 4¾ yards of the same width for the skirt (8337).

Number 8315 sizes 4 to 10.
Number 8336 sizes 34 to 42.
Number 8337 sizes 22 to 32.

David Copperfield Suits Are Sensible for the Small Boy

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)

Said Willie Jones to Tommy Smith.

"My goodness gracious me; Our styles are simply going to The Dickens, don't you see?"

New York, May 8.—There's the very Dickens of a revolution in the children's styles and Dickens novelities sartorially bid fair to become popular as Dickens novels. The David Copperfield suits are the best in the field and are as practically comfortable and sensible for small boys as they are quaint and artistic.

The favorite combination of a white linen or cotton poplin waist with the ankle length trousers of a contrasting color fastening to it with large pearl buttons and collar and cuffs to match the trousers are charming in color schemes of delft blue, leaf green, pink, tan and old rose with white. A model that will bring joy to a laundry lightener, however, is an all dark brown cotton poplin relieved only by the big white pearl buttons and frills of thin white batiste at the neck and wrists. Often the waists are fashioned of white cloth striped in the same color as the trousers.

For more elaborate and dressy occasions come the Copperfield suits evolved with waists of corded or china silk and trousers of black satin, and for the little Rollos and Perceys who never, never soil their pretty clothes are suits of pale blue satin or all white corded silk.

The Paul Dombey suits are not unlike the middie blouse suits of last season. In fact, the waist is cut exactly like a middie, sans the sailor collar. They are best when developed in colored linen with the straight knee length trousers of the same although the two-colored scheme is employed in those suits also ones taste.

Dresses for the small lass called Little Dorrit frocks are exactly like the David Copperfield suits of her small brother except that in lieu of trousers they have a pleated skirt of colored poplin that fastens with the quaint white pearl buttons high up on a little waist of white.

The queer little tam-o'-shanter shaped hats of straw with a visor and two dinky ribbon ends hanging down behind like David Copperfield and Paul Dombey affected are the correct things in the hat line for young hopefuls today. Little inverted butterbowl shapes of straw are also good.

It seems hardly fair that Dickens

IOWA WOMAN TELLS OTHERS

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Carried Her Safely Through Change of Life.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"At the Change of Life the doctor said I would have to give up my work and take my bed for some time as there was no help for me but to lie still. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kept up my work and now I am over the Change and that is all I took. It was better for me than all the doctor's medicines I tried. Many people have no faith in patent medicines but I know this is good."—Mrs. E. J. RICKETS, 354 8th Avenue, West, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, back-aches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

If there are any complications you don't understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

should be given all the credit for these charming styles for children when it is the inimitable illustrator of his works George Cruikshanks, who pictured the Dickens children thus attired. For that matter Kate Greenaway deserves quite as much credit, for all of her dainty picture laddies were dressed this way. Perhaps it is a safer thing to call the new child fashions 'character' or 'period' suits, as a well known department store one of the first sponsors of the new styles, is doing by way of solving the difficulty of bestowing credit where credit is due.

Another cunning style has the straight knee length pants and a waist cut like a coat with a front of white pique to simulate a little waistcoat. This model is particularly satisfactory developed in chambray. Even rompers have undergone a complete metamorphosis and in their newest state are little one piece suits, short kimono sleeve, square low neck and ending trunk length straight pants instead of the full bloomers of the rompers of yesterday. Nothing cooler or more attractive and comfortable for the wee summer men could be imagined. In striped and checked ginghams or chambrays, banded in solid colors, they are too cute for anything except just what they are made for—the partial covering of a pudgy boy.

Cunning washable kid gloves for the kiddies is another innovation bound to bring joy not only to the small man and little woman but to their respected and long suffering parents who must hand out the price of these expensive infantile dress accessories. Of white and chamois toned doeskin they are exactly like mother's washable gloves and can be popped into soapsuds black as small grubby hands can make 'em and come out again as immaculate as a brand new pair. Hence a wash in time will save buying a new pair of gloves nine times out of ten.

I. & C. CURRENT IS USED TO KILL FISH

Game Wardens Believe Fishermen Have Used Novel Method to Get Haul in Williams Creek.

INVESTIGATION BEING MADE

A new and novel method of killing fish has been brought to the attention of state game wardens, who are conducting an investigation that may lead to the arrest of the guilty parties. From the number of fish found dead in Williams Creek, officials are of the opinion that electricity from the I. & C. traction line has been used. A number of Connersville fishermen who have visited Williams Creek in search of bass have noticed a large number of suckers and other fish lying along the bed of the stream, dead. They at first thought that dynamite had been used but now are of the opinion that electricity was the cause.

Just how the juice was obtained from the traction line is not known. It is known that electricity is very deadly to fish and cases are known where large storage batteries were used. The current from the traction line is very powerful and the investigators are of the opinion that this accounts for the large number of fish killed.

CROSS-STITCH DESIGN ADAPTED TO A GENERAL UTILITY BAG

A bag, such as the one illustrated here, will be found very handy to hang on the inside of the closet door as a general utility bag. It may be made of heavy linen, rep, burlap, crafts canvas or Monk's cloth and may be made with two or more pockets.

The rose corners for cross-stitch are from pattern No. 14452. There are four transfers in the pattern each 5½ inches square, for 15 cents. They may be worked entirely in one color, as blue or brown, or they may be carried out in several colors, using three shades of pink for the roses, two shades of green for the leaves and brown for the stems. The corners may be used on a table-cover, the ends of a runner or a pillow, as well as on a bag of this description.

The letters L D are from the cross-stitch alphabet No. 14454. This pattern contains a complete alphabet in any one size, 2 inches, 3 inches, or 4 inches size, suitable for marking bags, towels, blankets, or other household linens. These letters may be worked in one or more shades of a color, and heavy mercerized cotton or rope silk should be used for both cross-stitch designs.

Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer patterns will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price, 15 cents.

COUNTY UNIT
IS NEGLECTED

Speaker at Conference of Charities and Corrections says More Attention Should be Paid

CENTER OF THE GOVERNMENT

Faulty Records and Accounts is Part of Neglect—Point Where Politics Should be Humanized

(By United Press.)

Memphis, Tenn., May 9.—The most important and, strange to say, the most neglected unit in the daily life and government of the people of the United States, is the county, according to the view presented to the national conference of charities and corrections today by Professor Graham Taylor, of Chicago University, president of the conference.

The county, Prof. Taylor said, is the center of more governmental activities and human service than of any other seat of government; in fact it is the "rural capitol of the great majority of the American people." But in proportion of the county's importance and responsibility, Taylor asserted that the county suffers from its citizens' neglect and consequent inefficiency in administration.

"This neglect," said Dr. Taylor, is evident in the faulty records and accounts, in the neglect of public health in bad conditions in county jails and almshouses, in the extortionate expense of the sheriff's and prosecuting attorney's offices, and the irresponsible county treasurerships. Counties differ so in area, in population and in their interests that their governments and the management of their affairs have been standardized. Each county and almost every office is a law to itself. Legislation has either ignored the county, leaving its form and methods to be outgrown and to restrict growth, or has still more confused its affairs by a patch-work of laws, making good government impossible. "The resulting confusion and conflict, duplication and waste prevailing in county government have no where been more effectively exposed than by the Chicago Bureau of Public Efficiency in its report of the Nineteen Local Governments in Chicago and the 300 taxing bodies within the county. The whole situation is tellingly told in the cartoon picturing the bewildered voter trying to choose officials for 144 different elective positions. His plight, which seems to be about as bad as it could be, is made worse, however, by the partisan politics centering at every county seat."

Dr. Taylor quoted the 1910 census which showed that five sixths of the 2,952 counties reported, were rural, only 115 having an urban population of from 50,000 to 500,000, and great cities having over half a million population being situated in only eight counties.

"The county is also our most prevalent political unit," continued Dr. Taylor. It permeates our whole legislative, judicial and administrative organization and being the center of party activities, which through the "county central committee," potentially influences the nomination and election of officials as well as party policies. It is the executive agent of both the state and the town in registering business records and vital statistics, preserving order and doing justice, protecting life, opening and maintaining highways. To fulfill these fundamental government functions and the still more humanitarian service the county government costs the people of the United States $300,000,000 a year to maintain."

"The contracts let by county officials, and far more the fee-incomes of some of them, which in some counties exceed the salary of the President of the United States, are tributary to the treasury of the dominant party, supplying its campaign with the sinews of war. In country counties, as well as in those which include great cities both farmers and business men say. "What's the use of farmers taking time for politics when the whole thing is run by political bosses anyway," and "Politics is no business for an honest man."

"Two ways of dealing with the county are appearing in politics. One is to abolish the county government by transferring its function to the state and town, and the duties of county officials to state and town offices. But the county is too deeply rooted in the American systems of government, judiciary and party organization to be abolished. So the other tendency is to reconstitute county governments by home-rule charters. Where counties are thus given the right to rule themselves, some of them have adopted the commission form of government for the sake of the short ballot and the placing the responsibility more definitely upon fewer officials.

"The county may well be taken as the point at which politics should be humanized, local government should not belong to parties but to the people, and should be made to include whatever concerns man as a social being. It will yet appeal to its citizens to make it such, for the county lies all around and very close to every home and neighborhood, every one's home town and city and therefore ought to be and can become the framework, within which private citizens can best work with public officials, public agencies can best cooperate with volunteer organizations for the common welfare.

"Never in all the history of their long relationship to public agencies have the volunteer organizations, including the churches, been more absolutely indispensable than now. In promoting this co-operation we are humanizing government, idealizing politics, fraternizing the business of public affairs and bringing religion to earth."

Your Baby Wants VANTA Garments

Mothers, our infant's department will demonstrate Vanta Baby Garments and the advantages of the new twistless tape fastening over pins and buttons. The invention of this new tape banishes all prejudices against tape fastenings. It never gets hard or stringy—positively will not kink or curl in the wash. It is made a part of the garment itself—will not pull or rip off—never needs resewing. Far easier handled than pins and buttons and eliminates all danger of blood poisoning. Fastenings are in front so baby can be dressed without turning. One clever fastening prevents Vanta Vests from working up around the waist.

Vanta Vests are made double breasted—fitted close around the neck—are finely finished in a variety of materials in sizes for babies of all ages. Come to the Infant's Department and see them for your baby's sake.

GERMAN "CURE" IS WORTHLESS

Dr. George Mannheimer Declares at Meeting Friedmann's Tuberculosis Vaccine is Valueless

IS GIVEN A YEAR'S TRIAL

Two Methods by Which Supply has Proved of Worth in "White Plague" Cases are Explained.

(By United Press.)

Washington, May 8.—Dr. Friedmann's vaccine, after a year of careful experimentation, according to Dr. George Mannheimer, of New York, has exhibited neither curative nor preventive powers, and it cannot therefore, be recommended. Dr. Mannheimer made this statement today at the sessions of the Clinical section of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in annual convention here.

"In March 1913," said Dr. Mannheimer, "18 patients were treated under my supervision. Of these, 15 can be followed up and of that number 3 are dead. The number of injections in these cases were one, two, and four respectively. Of the remaining twelve patients, ten received one, and two received four injections. Five of the ten patients who received one injection developed abscesses at the site of the injection and were therefore unsuitable for further injections, according to the inventor. The other five patients were not reinjected, either, because they did not see the improvement they had been led to expect or because they had become worse and had lost confidence in Friedmann. As to their present condition, 5 of them are now unchanged and five are worse than a year ago. One patient who had four injections, feels well and presents signs of an arrested lung-process, but he has not gained in weight and has developed new tuberculosis process in another part of the body. The second patient with four injections has tuberculosis of the knee-joint and is now decidedly worse than before. The infiltrate of the fourth injection broke down and discharged pus.

"Where abscesses resulted at the site of the first injection, the vaccine apparently produced no additional harmful effect. The disease remained uninfluenced. Friedmann neglected to prevent abscess-formation, although he claimed to know how. To be very charitable, one might judge from one single case, that decided natural healing tendencies aided by common-sense treatment, will not be hindered by the remedy."

In speaking on the subject, "The Subsequent History of Cases Discharged from Tuberculosis Sanatoria," Dr. Charles Bolduan, of the New York Department of Health, declared that tuberculosis sanatoria are useless and constant preaching of fresh air wasted unless "we bend every effort to provide suitable remunerative fresh air employment for the tuberculosis especially for those discharged as arrested cases from sanatoria." The same argument was made by the Rev. Sidney Goldstein, of New York, who declared that unless arrested cases are "followed up" the work is rendered useless.

Two methods, by the use of which surgery has proven of service in the treatment of tuberculosis, were reported upon by Dr. Edward Archbald of Montreal. "While modern methods of climatological hygiene, and dietetic treatment accomplish a great deal particularly in incipient tuberculosis," said Dr. Archbald, "there remain a large number of cases with more advanced disease for whom these methods avail little. For a certain number of such patients, especially those in whom one lung is the seat of serious ulcerative lesions while the other lung remains practically sound, operative surgery will often prove of great service." The first method suggested by Dr. Archbald known as artificial pneumothorax aims to produce a collapse of the affected lung through compression, effected by the introducing into the chest cavity outside of the lung a certain amount of nitrogen gas. By means of this compression the tuberculous lung, being set at rest and prevented from filling its natural function, is more readily healed than it could be under normal conditions.
